British, Russian Troops March Into Iran

Illinois Veterans Avoid Conflict on Convention's Floor

Resolutions Satisfactory To Isolationists and Administration

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Illinois members of the American Legion at their 23rd annual state convention today commended President Roosevelt's "courageous expressions against war" but urged national officials to avoid acts or statements that would result in America's entrance into foreign conflict.

The resolution—adopted after the national defense and resolutions committee voted down other expressions against conveying supplies to Britain, opposing aid to Soviet Russia, and asking a referendum on war—was praised by Legion leaders as a means of avoiding an open split on the convention floor over the administration's foreign policy.

Supporters of the president's foreign policy hailed the rejection of the anti-convoys and anti-Soviet resolutions as a victory for the administration's all-out assistance program, while leaders of the isolationist faction said they were satisfied with the resolution's warning against involvement in foreign wars.

The four-point resolution, presented by Omar McMackin of Salem, chairman of the national defense committee, read in part:

Parts of Resolution

"We commend the president for his courageous expressions against war and his high purpose to keep us out of foreign quarrels.

"We pray his continued efforts to prevent the wasting of our substance and the slaughter of our youth.

"We support him in his efforts to make America strong.

"We pray that no elected or appointed official of the United States make any statements or commit any acts that would plunge his country into any foreign war that congress, and congress alone, has the authority to declare."

Other resolutions adopted by the convention favored continuation of conscription on a permanent basis, raising base pay of soldiers to $30 a month; speed in the building up of a two-ocean navy.

Also adopted without debate was a resolution urging that all labor disputes in defense industries be submitted to the national mediation board "for their assistance in bringing about a

Strikes in Detroit And Big Ship Yard End This Morning

(By The Associated Press)

Three thousand workers, vanguard of 18,000 headed back to work today under navy management at the plant of the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock Company in Kearny, N. J.

C. I. O.'s Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers, who tied up half a billion dollars of ship construction with their strike last August 7, voted yesterday to end their walkout in view of President Roosevelt's order Saturday that the navy take over the yards. It was expected that full operations would be underway Tuesday.

The union will negotiate with the navy over its demand for a maintenance-of-union contract clause which would provide for dismissal of workers who failed to pay their dues. This clause was what caused the company to balk at accepting a National Mediation Board recommendation for settlement of the dispute.

Detroit Strike Ends

Ended also yesterday was an A. F. L. strike which had tied up Detroit buses and street cars since last Wednesday. The Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators agreed to resume work pending an election to determine whether a majority of the transit workers wish to be represented by that union or C. I. O.'s State, County and Municipal Workers of America.

The A. F. L. called the strike to support a demand that it be recognized as sole bargaining agent.

Another jurisdictional dispute which had threatened a tieup in seven Great Lakes yards of the American Shipbuilding Company was headed off when competing A. F. L. and C. I. O. unions agreed to a bargaining election. In this case the A. F. L., seeking role bargaining rights, had threatened to call its members off production on $25,000,000 of defense orders.

Interruptions

London, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Germany's powerful radio station Deutschland tried desperately last night to duck a new, mysterious wavelength crasher, but the mocking voice had the last say.

The nazis slammed one record on top of another sometimes beginning one before the other finished, in order not to give the anti-nazi voice a chance to interrupt.

When the news announced after a rapid-fire delivery blurted "and that ends the news" the voice was clearly in Britain shouting:

"But the lying will continue tomorrow."

When nazi war reporter's stories were given the announcer paused for a badly-needed breath. The voice chimed in:

"You will conquer yourself to death."

Trying to explain the voice, Deutschland said:

"The Bolsheviks tried to tune themselves in on one of our stations. Such methods are not a novelty. We used them in the Polish campaign. Countermeasures are being applied against the Russians."

Roosevelt Back in Washington: Will Be Host to Duke

Washington, Aug. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt and the Duke of Kent reached the Capital by special train today, the chief executive to slip back into routine in a conference with congressional leaders and the duke to fly to Norfolk, Va., to inspect defense operations.

The duke, youngest brother of King George VI of England, had spent an apparently uneventful week-end at the home of the president at Hyde Park, N. Y. The president chaperoned the duke around the family estate yesterday and took him to an exhibit of WPA drawings at the Franklin D. Roosevelt Library.

Sunday activity at the temporary White House offices included announcements that the chief executive had signed two documents designed to assist the defense program.

One was a proclamation authorizing the Plantation Pipeline Company to use the right to eminent domain to acquire rights-of-way for a pipeline from Baton Rouge, La. to Greensboro, N. C., with a potential capacity of 90,000 barrels of fluid daily.

Nothing Significant

The other was an executive order, the effect of which, officials said, will be to let British officers and men operate vessels which the Federal Maritime Commission acquired under the ship seizure act of last June.

There was nothing to indicate that the duke had come to the Roosevelt estate on anything more than an informal, social call, de-

Rogers Park Murder Victim Unidentified

Chicago, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Police Capt. John McGinnis said today that all efforts to identify a young woman found slain last Thursday in the Rogers Park district were still unavailing.

He said he was satisfied the victim was not Eunice Vincent, 20, of Stonington, Ill., whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Vincent, reported she had left home a month ago.

A picture of Miss Vincent did not resemble the dead woman, he said, and the victim was 5 feet 4 inches tall, weighed about 120 pounds and had light brown hair, whereas Miss Vincent was about 5 feet tall, weighed between 130 and 140 and had dark brown hair.

There have been several tentative identifications and more than 500 persons have viewed the body of the slaying victim.

Lyons Declares Record Will Show His Cooperation With Wright Body

Chicago, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Leo M. Lyons, Chicago relief administrator, said today the record would disprove state Treasurer Warren Wright's charges that he had not cooperated with the state program to place relief clients in private employment.

"I have just one objective in this connection, and that is to get people to work," Lyons stated. "And I will be glad to stand on my record."

This record he said, showed that since the state program was placed in operation May 26 the CRA had referred 1,652 persons to Wright's committee. Jobs were found for 352 of them, 237 were rejected as not placeable, 81 refused employment and 148 failed to report.

"Thus there are 804 cases pending as of Aug. 21," Lyons went

Japan Must Cease Aggression, Warns Winston Churchill

Pledges Great Britain to Action in Support of United States

(Editor's Note—The text of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's address Sunday, which was broadcast to the world, will be found on page 10.)

Tokyo, Aug. 26.—(Tuesday)—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill's assertion that Britain and the United States were trying to obtain a peaceful settlement with Japan was described as "nothing but a big lie" today by Nichi Nichi, one of the most influential Japanese newspapers.

Nichi Nichi called on Britain to end "anti-Japanese" activities immediately and proclaimed:

"Japan is determined to eliminate all obstacles to her southward advance. Japan does not hesitate to meet any opposition."

London, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill warned Japan yesterday that her campaign of military extension must stop and pledged Great Britain to range herself beside the United States should the latter's efforts to secure a peaceful settlement in the Pacific fail.

On the other side of the world, he called the "Atlantic charter" drawn by him and President Roosevelt a British-United States pledge to destroy nazi tyranny.

In a broadcast to the world he described his meeting with the American executive as a "marshaling of the good forces of the world against the evil forces" and a beacon of hope for all the conquered nations of Europe.

In the German attack on soviet Russia, he said nazi blood for the first time "has flowed in a fearful flood." He promised aid to Russia and praised her efficiency and equipment.

If Germany were to defeat Russia and then Britain in a policy of destroying her opponents one by one, Churchill expressed the opinion the United States would be attacked next.

"I rejoice to find that President Roosevelt saw in their true light and proportion the extreme dangers by which the American people as well as the British people are now beset," he said.

His reference to Japan won most of the comment in the Brit-

Reduce Draftee's Prison Sentence

Washington, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The war department announced today that Robert P. Patterson, Acting Secretary of War, had reduced the prison term of John Habinyak, Pennsylvania draftee, convicted by a military court martial of insubordination, from 10 to 13 years in prison.

The acting secretary also suspended execution of Habinyak's dishonorable discharge until his release from confinement at the Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, disciplinary barracks where he was ordered confined.

The war department announced that if Habinyak's prison conduct is good, he will be released in 30 months which is the maximum period of service to which trainees are liable under the revised draft law.

Suspension of the dishonorable discharge will make it possible, the department said, to restore Habinyak to duty at any time with remission of the unexpired term of confinement should his subsequent conduct justify additional clemency. He would be required, however, if the emergency continues to complete his service with the army.

Queen Contest Gets Hotter; Qualifying Round on Thursday

Local Candidates Make First Appearance at Dixon Theater

A score of candidates from Dixon, aspiring to be chosen Queen of the Rock River Valley on Louella Parsons Day, Sept. 15, had filed with the Lions club beauty contest committee today. The committee has received many inquiries asking names of organizations sponsoring individual candidates and announced that the contestants would compete on their individual qualifications without sponsoring organizations.

The preliminary qualifying round will be held Thursday evening at the Dixon theater, and all local applications are expected to be filed before midnight Wednesday. Numerous applications have been received from surrounding communities and others are assured.

The contest is being widely publicized and during last week completed details were contained in the issues of the Rochelle Leader, Rochelle News, Bureau County Republican and Mendota Reporter, where contestants are entered.

In Bureau County

In Princeton, the Beta Sigma Phi chapter, national sorority is sponsoring the contestants and selection of the most beautiful young woman in the Bureau County seat is exacting wide interest. Mrs. M. F. Morel, head of the chapter, has appointed committees to arrange for an outstanding float to be entered in the huge parade on Louella Parsons Day and plans are being made to secure the famous Princeton high school band for this greatest of all events in Dixon's history. Mrs. Morel will serve as one of the judges in the Dixon eliminations starting Thursday evening.

At Mendota, the Lions club and the Mendota Reporter are sponsoring the candidates. The three successful contestants will be selected at the Mendota Fair Monday evening, Sept. 1.

Rochelle Selecting

Rochelle's candidates for Louella Parsons Day are many and the first selections will be made at the Hub theater in that city Wednesday evening, Aug. 27. The final selection will be one week later and prospective contestants are urged to file their applications with Manager William Kaussul at once.

The candidates from Dixon who have filed their applications with the local Lions club beauty contest committee are as follows:

Betty Allen, Rita Bennett, Sue Bryant, Alice Marie Compton, Marilyn Crawford, Betty Jane Cummings, Kathryn Doran, Helen Duen, Sara Egan, Lorraine Huck, Kathleen Karper, Sadie Langford, Helen Lennon, Edna Leuzinger, Muriel Roberta Peterson, Gloria Rutherford, Helen Slick, Rose Sterling, Evangeline Szabo and Mary Louise Wallace.

Howard G. Mayer, publicity director for the C. & N. W. Ry. company, came out from Chicago at noon today and this afternoon was meeting with the chairman of the several committees at the Chamber of Commerce.

Solution

Chicago, Aug. 25.—(AP)—When a pretty, unidentified girl refused to get off a much used drawbridge because she was "a taxpayer" Bridge Tender Morris Snyder called the law.

But the officers found her a problem too. Twice they put her in the paddy wagon. Each time she jumped out, attempted to flee. Policeman Donald Keever finally solved it—he removed her shoes.

Dixon Among Only Few Places in U. S. Failing Quota

Mayor W. V. Slothower, chairman of the Lee county United Service Organization campaign, today received a request from national headquarters that the local drive be completed by Sept. 7. To date contributions made to him and treasurer Clyde Lenox total only $929.90, a little over half of the quota. Nearly every other community in the nation has raised and turned in its quota, the mayor has been advised, many of them oversubscribing their minimum—leaving Dixon with the questionable distinction of being one of very few cities in the United States which has not met its duty as regards providing recreational facilities for men in service.

Contributions to date are:

Biddle Nominated to Be Attorney General

Washington, Aug. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt nominated Francis Biddle, solicitor general of the justice department, today to be attorney general of the United States.

Biddle will move up to the post vacated when Robert H. Jackson was appointed to the Supreme court. It is expected that Charles Fahy, assistant solicitor general, will become Biddle's successor.

Biddle before going to the justice department had served as a Federal Circuit Judge in Pennsylvania.

Much Speculation in Washington on Churchill Address

Congressional Comment on Radio Speech is Slow in Coming

Washington, Aug. 25.—(AP)—Winston Churchill's pointed emphasis on the delicate situation in the Far East attracted much attention here today, for the British prime minister seemed to intimate that the danger of trouble between the United States and Japan was greater than between Japan and Great Britain.

Although there were many passages in the prime minister's address yesterday that provoked interest, most of the diplomatic speculation centered on Churchill's pledge that Britain would stand by the United States in the event of a showdown in the Orient.

Pending a careful study of Churchill's report on his historic Atlantic meeting with President Roosevelt, congressional comment was slow in forthcoming, but the opinion among administration supporters seemed to be that Japan had been given a warning that could not be misunderstood.

Churchill, diplomatic sources noted, bracketed Singapore and the Philippines specifically as the two spots immediately menaced

Counterattacks by Reds Check Nazis

By The Associated Press

In the 65-day-old Russian-German war, Adolf Hitler's high command again reported tersely that "operations in the east are making progress everywhere."

Soviet military dispatches declared that Red Army defenses had checked the German onslaught toward Leningrad and that heavily reinforced Russian divisions were successfully counter-attacking.

Mammoth Soviet tanks were credited with smashing 135 light German tanks in bloody fighting south and southwest of Leningrad while on the central front, in the Gomel area between Smolensk and Kiev, the Russians said they left more than 100 nazi armored vehicles wrecked and aflame.

A Moscow communique, announcing the entry of Red troops into Iran, said the action took place after three warnings to the Iran government over nazi activity there.

"The United States are laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement which will give Japan the utmost

Soldiers Guard Implicated by One Of Fugitives as Aiding Two Escape

Fort Sheridan, Ill., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Private Louis Summers of Chicago was held in confinement today, faced with a possible charge of aiding the escape of two army prisoners he had been assigned to guard.

One of the escapees, Private Harry Pearson, 25, of Chicago, surrendered voluntarily yesterday and it was he who punctured Summers' story that his prisoners overpowered him Saturday and forced him to accompany them in their flight.

Still at large was Ted Wegeman, 25, of Reedsville, Wis., who, with Pearson, was being held for court martial on desertion charges at the time of the escape.

Kingdom's Army of 190,000 Men Resisting Move

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Telegraph Special Service)

The Anglo-Russian move in sending expeditionary forces into Iran (Persia), in order to prevent that country from becoming a base for nazi operations, represents a momentous strategic move.

This invasion was hastened by the nazi advance across the Ukraine toward the Persian frontier along the Caucasus—a drive which appears to contemplate the occupation of Persia. Britain and the soviet acted, after ample warning, when the Persian government refused to comply with a demand for the expulsion of a large number of German residents, labeled by the allies as fifth-columnists who were preparing to cooperate with the nazi army.

Not only is Hitler headed for Persia by way of the Caucasus, but there have been indications that he might attack Turkey and cross into Persia along that route. Much would depend on the success of his present offensive against the Reds in the Ukraine.

One reason the fuhrer wants Persia is because it is rich in oil, an essential of which he is badly in need. He is equally concerned, however, with its strategic importance in further prosecution of the war.

Persia is Russia's lifeline to the Persian gulf, as has been explained in this column before. With the Baltic and Black seas virtually closed to shipping, and the Far Eastern port of Vladivostok of rather doubtful value because of the Japanese crisis, this Persian route may easily become vital for the movement of American and British war supplies into the soviet.

From the British standpoint there is a matter of even greater concern than that. Persia would provide the nazis with a base from which they could strike at India or drive across the Middle East against Egypt and the Suez canal. Whatever way you look at it, the loss of Persia to the nazis would represent a real disaster for the allies.

The Persian government has had the reputation of being pro-British, or at least exceedingly friendly. For this reason there has been speculation as to whether Teheran would carry out its threat of resisting invasion. In any event, resistance or no resistance, the allies would seem bound to carry out their occupation of the country as a matter of self-preservation.

It won't be surprising if this sensational Anglo-Russian occupation of Persia has a restraining influence on the Japanese in the Far Eastern crisis. Anything which tends to hurt the German chances of winning the war is bound to make Japan more cautious about challenging the United States and Britain.

In consultation with this critical situation I was much struck yesterday by British Premier Churchill's employment of the formal term "negotiations" to describe conversations between Washington and Tokyo. I reported to you Saturday that the position seemed a bit easier, but that wasn't based on knowledge of any "negotiations," although diplomatic exchanges have been going forward. Churchill may have thrown new light on the subject. What he said was:

"The United States are laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement which will give Japan the utmost

Anti-Axis Allies Act to Protect Vital Oil

(By The Associated Press)

London, Aug. 25.—Iran's army of about 190,000 men was reported authoritatively today to be resisting British-Russian invading forces, spreading the war across that oil-rich kingdom wedged strategically between the Persian gulf and the Caspian sea.

The extent or place of the engagements was not disclosed here. (The German wireless broadcast an Ankara dispatch stating that "clashes already have been reported from the Caucasian border," the point of entry for soviet troops.)

Veteran British desert fighters moved east and north from British-dominated Iraq, and from the Persian gulf and formed a frontier threat at Baluchistan, which lies southeast of Iran. Some of the British landed from ships in the Persian gulf.

Russian Cossacks and mounted infantrymen made up the soviet invading forces, moving toward junctions with the British in a synchronized invasion over baking plains and mountains.

Ouster of German agents was the announced Russian-British aim.

From Cairo, headquarters of the British Middle East command, it was reported that Indian mechanized forces, strongly supported by RAF squadrons, were in the vanguard of the invasion.

An authoritative London source said some British troops had landed from ships at Bandar Shahpur, at the head of the Persian gulf, but "that, of course, is not the sole point of entry."

Small Army Resists

Opposing the invaders was an army estimated in Cairo to consist of about 19 divisions of approximately 10,000 men each.

Cairo sources said Iranian artillery was mainly of Swedish make and arms included light and heavy machine guns. There are a few German tanks, they said, and the air force consists of a single Tomahawk and about a dozen Hurricanes. They predicted a brief campaign, saying Iranians were poor airmen with little knowledge of navigation.

Some British estimates of the total number of German "tourists and technicians" in Iran rose as high as 8,000, although Iranian police declare there are only 590 German men in the country.

Russians moved down from the north; Britons from the west and

Roosevelt Vetoes Bill to 'Freeze' Cotton and Wheat

Washington, Aug. 25.—(AP)—President Roosevelt vetoed today legislation to freeze government stocks of wheat and cotton, declaring it to be contrary "to sound governmental policy" and to the long-time best interests of both farmers and consumers.

In a message to the house, the chief executive said it was his conviction that approval of the measure "would seriously and adversely affect the agricultural adjustment program and the attendant policies which have been so beneficial to our farmers during the past few years."

Advocates of the bill at the Capitol had contended that sale of the government stocks might depress prices.

The bill also would have guaranteed a price for peanuts of 85 percent of parity. (Parity is the price designed to give farmers purchasing powers equivalent to that of the 1909-14 period.)

Roosevelt termed particular objectionable a provision directing the Commodity Credit Corporation to acquire title to all cotton and wheat of the 1940 and previous crops in which it has an interest and hold them for an indefinite period.

Would Destroy Acceptance

Producers, consumers, and congress have accepted as fair and reasonable, Roosevelt said, the parity price goal of the administration's farm policy. And he said he did not feel farmers would want this acceptance "destroyed"

County Fair Closes Most Successful of All Seasons Sunday

Attractions, Exhibits, Attendance Best in Association History

Lee county's eighth annual fair and horse show drew to a record close at Assembly park Sunday evening, with new highs in every department from attendance to exhibits. Patrons of this year's fair declared it to be the finest that has ever been presented in Lee county. Three perfect days brought record attendance to each performance and those attending were well repaid for their presence.

Sunday afternoon's program was the best that has been presented to patrons of the fair in their eight years of its existence, and added to the fine program were some exciting and thrilling moments. The feature thriller occurred in mid-afternoon when one of the entrants in the roadster stake class became unmanageable and ran away. The driver was powerless to stop the animal which raced about the ring until Fred Bott climbed into the ring and succeeded in stopping the horse. All of the other drivers had been ordered to the center of the ring for their own protection.

Patrons of the Sunday afternoon program were treated to several events which were not included on the regular program. Ed Slavin of Davenport, Iowa, exhibited two fine hackney ponies, hitched tandem which brought a lusty round of applause.

Ralph Meyers of Amboy, 1940 Lee county Future Farmers of America champion in the production of dairy cattle, was awarded a fine trophy. Donald Schafer of Ashton, received a medal for second place in this department and Leslie Bothe of Amboy, third, the presentation being made by L. V. Slothower, agricultural instructor in the Dixon high school.

Fine Parade Sunday

The Sunday program started with a wonderful parade of livestock, all of the champions of the fair being shown. Later in the afternoon a fine parade of power driven agricultural machinery appeared in the ring.

Another feature not appearing on the regular program was an exhibition of side saddle riding by four women riders. In this event, Miss Mary Louise Dysart of Franklin Grove was judged the best rider and received the award donated by W. J. Wyman, Inc., of Chicago.

The entry of Tom O'Malley of Aurora in the first ring event, the three-gaited stake, won the handsome trophy and first place ribbon, the trophy being donated by the Dixon Home Telephone company and presented by one of its officers, Amos Bosworth. Miss Joan Killan of Sterling was second.

The Green Valley farm entry, Miss Muffet, won first place and the gold cup trophy donated and presented by Edward Struhs of Dixon in the children's horsemanship event.

The Fox View stables of Oswego was awarded a handsome large gold cup and first place in the roadster stake class, the trophy being donated by Joe Scholten, horse shoer at the fair. It was in this event in which five drivers of sulkies were ordered to the center of the ring when one of the entries ran away.

Wins Vaile Trophy

Earl Dyche of Rockford won first place and the trophy donated by the Edward Vaile Clothing Company in the stock saddle class which brought out an even dozen daring riders of both sexes. Kenneth Knapp of Polo won second place ribbon, Buck Lambert of Dixon, third, and Bill Mahon of Rockford, fourth.

Lass of Bourbon from the stables of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Keogh of La Fox captured first honors and the beautiful trophy donated and presented by Peter Piper of this city, in the five-gaited stake event, the final number on the Sunday afternoon program.

At the Saturday afternoon show Marjorie Lloyd of Winnetka won first place ribbon and the trophy donated by the Dixon One-Stop service which were presented by Miss Joyce Howell. The Tom O'Malley stable entry from Aurora won first in the roadster under saddle class; and again in the three-gaited event, the O'Malley stables won another first place. The Keogh entry from La Fox took first place honors in the five-gaited combination event.

The Franklin Grove high school livestock judging team of which Laverne Baker is instructor, consisting of Dean Shippert, Melvin Brucker and Wallace Karper received their awards at the Saturday afternoon show.

Rae A. Dillinger, assistant state agricultural director attended the show Saturday afternoon and in a brief talk, praised the Lee county fair livestock and agricultural exhibits, and the outstanding work of the 4-H clubs of the county.

FAIR NOTES

L. V. Slothower's work as the official announcer for the three days was outstanding. In his capacity as agricultural instructor at Dixon high school, he is thoroughly conversant with such subjects and his services were of great value to the fair association and the thousands attending the fair.

Dixon Boy Scouts built a model Scout village at the south end of the show ring and each day conducted the flag raising and lowering rituals. Members of Troop 89 have assisted during each of the eight seasons that the fair has been held in Dixon and their cooperation has been thoroughly appreciated.

The Amboy township high school band under the direction of Prof. Jack Swartz, furnished the music for the fair Friday and Saturday. Before going to Assembly park the band played a concert at Hennepin avenue and First street each day. Director Swartz, who will instruct in music at the Amboy high school next season, gave up his vacation to hurry to Amboy to assemble the band, put them through nightly practice sessions at the school gymnasium, so that they might be able to fill the engagement. The youngsters did a fine job on both days and it is hoped that they may be present again next year.

The attendance for the three days and more particularly on Sunday set a new high figure, and the crowd was most orderly and responsive one, which was well handled by the ushers and force of special officers. There was not a single disturbance, however minor, on the grounds during the three days. Officer J. E. McIntyre and his force who had charge of the parking of hundreds of cars, did a very creditable job if it and are to be commended for their efforts.

The annual Horsemen's Round-up was held Saturday evening at the Elks club, where officers of the fair association entertained the visiting features for the three day fair. The Seigrist trapeze artists were the finest that have been seen in Dixon and the remaining free acts were of equal high character.

There's one officer of the fair association who never has an opportunity to witness a program and very rarely to see a feature number. He's Secretary Charles R. Leake, who begins weeks in advance of the fair date with his work and continues until after the event is over, issuing the awards and taking care of a hundred other details which make for the success of the fair.

Even Hollywood Is Experiencing Case of Jitters; Report

Jittery About Future and Falling Off of Box Office Income

New York, Aug. 25.—(The Special News Service)—America's gay and zany film capital, Hollywood, is neither so gay nor zany today while trying to guess what type of entertainment will please a people engrossed in the grim problems of war and national defense.

There is general agreement that the movie business is not what it used to be, and that something must be done about it. But from that point every prophet is on his own and opinions are varied as to what course the industry should follow.

Other industries can produce their merchandise from blueprints of precise specifications and measure their profits beforehand in contract agreements. But Hollywood has no blueprint for entertainment or yardstick for profits because it deals with the intangibles of emotion.

Hollywood never before has faced a situation such as that which confronts it today, and the film center seems to be in a paradoxical position. National income is up 11 per cent over last year. Wages are rising and unemployment is at the lowest ebb in years due to the billions pouring into the defense program. Yet the movie box office figures do not reflect this prosperity.

Box Office Business Off Business, it is generally agreed, is off about 25 per cent in the country's movie palaces. Foreign markets which long ago became virtually non-existent slipped 10 to 30 per cent from the grosses.

While the movie stars draw salaries which appear fantastic to the average film fan, the industry's revenues aren't hefty enough to keep the colony in the style to which it has become accustomed, and the moguls are sweating over the situation.

What is wrong? They know more money is in circulation than ever before. Movies still are the chief form of entertainment for the masses. Logically, the business should be booming.

Nobody knows to what extent the defense program is responsible for the sharp drop in theater patronage.

Hollywood says it is concentrating on entertainment, but few can agree on a definition for the term. The industry is going to put aside prestige pictures which appeal to the classes, and other experiments in showmanship in an effort to give the masses pictures they want.

Joseph I. Breen, the former Hays office censor who now heads R. K. O. studio production, believes the public wants pictures in which it can forget the war and the social and economic implications of defense preparations.

J. L. Warner of the Warner studio says, however, the defense program has brought no major changes in the type of stories being filmed and he is supported by Darryl Zanuck, head of the Twentieth Century-Fox studio, who says that "even the grimmest, most tragic stories can be entertaining, if they are made right."

The Merry Macs are getting to be more than just a noisy two-minute insert in musical films—and that calls for a little investigation.

The Macs are three brothers from Minneapolis—Judd, Ted and Joe McMichael—who, with a girl singer, (currently Mary Lou Cook) form a quartet which has been popular on the air and the phonograph for several years.

To Hollywood Last Year They came to Hollywood from Chicago last year for their first appearance in a feature-length film, with Fred Allen and Jack Benny.

They did some more numbers in other movies. Now, just as they're getting a name as the Merry Macs, they are resuming individuality. In their current picture, "Ride 'Em, Cowboy", they will be introduced separately. "The Merry Macs" will be in parentheses.

"It seems," explains Judd, "that we are now comedians rather than singers. We are not rowdies like the Ritz Brothers. We don't go in for slapstick—just good, solid humor. And we still get a lot of songs."

Have Come Long Way The Merry Macs, budding actors, have come a long way from the time, 10 years ago, that they were touring the east with an orchestra as the "Personality Boys".

Joe, the youngest at 25, and Judd, 10 years his senior, didn't let their success bother them. Ted, the in-between one, puts on a little more dog, his brothers say. He lives in a house that is practically a showplace, with a bar and accessories, and his wife has a maid.

In addition, he helped write "The Hut-Sut Song". To his credit, he didn't think much of the achievement at the time. He was chiefly responsible for the song's meaningless words. The Merry Macs had so little regard for the number they didn't get around to make a transcript of it until it was a veteran of the hit parades and had been recorded a dozen other groups.

Recreation Scarce for U. S. Soldiers at Iceland's Base

(Note: Tom Horgan, Associated Press staff writer, has been on a voyage with vessels of the United States neutrality patrol and has visited Iceland. Here is a story of what he found there, certain details being omitted at the request of the United States Navy.)

By TOM HORGAN Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 13.—(Delayed)—(AP)—Recreational facilities for American forces stationed in Iceland present a problem requiring the earliest possible solution.

Of all countries, this probably is the least prepared to offer comfort and entertainment to visitors—even if they had come as small groups of tourists instead of by thousands.

A motion picture theatre at present represents virtually the only established diversion.

The one liquor license is held by a hotel in which enlisted men are not admitted. There are no cafes such as are known in the United States and no recreational resorts.

Many of the finest salmon streams are located in Iceland, but the fishing rights are privately owned and the usual price for the privilege of fishing one is $10 a day.

One detachment of U. S. marines is encamped on the banks of such a stream, but the Leathernecks may only watch the leaping fish. British sportsmen for years have held the rights to many of the rivers and an English admiral is reputed to have paid $1,000 for a year's fishing of one stream, with not more than three rods at a time.

Consul Solves Problem

The United States' energetic consul, Bertel K. Kuniholm, of hails from Gardner, Mass., solved his recreational problem with a shotgun. His hunting companion is Reykjavik's police chief and together they enjoy fine sport with snipe, plover, curlew and the vast flocks of ducks and geese.

The descendants of the Vikings apparently retain little of their love for sailing, for in more than a week the only piece of canvas this correspondent saw set for pleasure was on a gig from one of the anchored warships.

While some of the aforementioned activities might meet requirements during the summer months of almost uninterrupted daylight, none would fill the recreational needs of the winter months of nearly total darkness. That is something for the USO to think about.

New Power Units for C. & N. W. Ry

Two new streamlined Diesel power units, the first of five being delivered during the next few days to the Chicago & NorthWestern Railway Company, for eventual service between Chicago and north and northwest points. The units, which are similar in design to the "400", are rated at 2,000 horsepower and cost approximately $175,000 each.

Prize Winners at Legion Convention Announced Today

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Jacksonville post No. 279 won the first prize for class A bands yesterday in the American Legions Illinois department convention held at the Peoria post No. 388 of Chicago placing second and the Peoria post No. 2 band, third.

Belleville post No. 58 took top honors for class B bands in the parade.

In the class A drum corps parade contest Commonwealth Edison post No. 118 of Chicago, the national champion corps in its field, was first; Peoria post No. 2 was second and Danville post No. 210 was third.

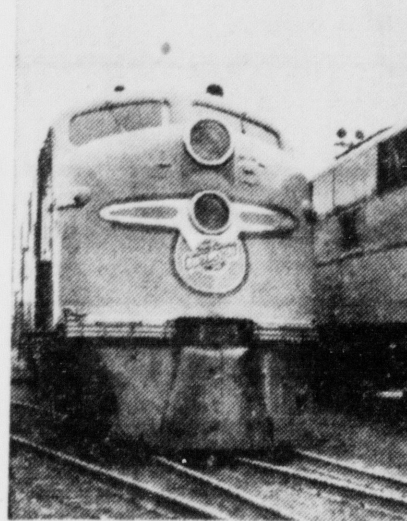

The Square post No. 232 of Chicago, was first in class B drum corps competition, with the Charles Roth post 672 of Oak Park second and Cicero Post No. 96 third.

Honors in the drum corps for the Sons of the American Legion were:

Englewood squadron 61, Chicago, first; Quincy squadron 37, second; Normal J. Cornwall squadron 275 of Chicago, third; Peoria squadron number 2, fourth and the Square post 232 of Chicago, fifth.

The parade's personality winner was Robert Abbott, drum major

Moose Convention In Indianapolis Is Most Colorful Fete

Indianapolis, Aug. 25.—(AP)—The Loyal Order of Moose began business sessions today after launching its 53rd annual national convention with one of the most colorful parades ever seen in the Hoosier capital.

The bands, drill teams, and other units scarcely rested from yesterday's march, began contests that will continue until Thursday, when winners will be announced.

The Mooseheart Alumni Association will hold its annual dinner and dance tonight for the benefit of the Moose Children's Home at Mooseheart, Ill.

Delegates will attend a special automobile race tomorrow at the Indianapolis Speedway and a picnic at Riverside amusement park.

Barbecue Thursday

A barbecue is planned for Thursday on the Marion county courthouse grounds, which are so small the affair probably will overflow into several blocks of the business district.

A convention class of 5,000 to 6,000 persons from throughout Indiana will be initiated Thursday night.

Election of officers probably will be Wednesday, Moose officials said. Governor Martin M. Neely of West Virginia is slated to become Supreme Governor.

Iowa City's Grenadiers, in blue and white uniforms with tall white shakos, won first prize in the parade. Milwaukee, seeking the 1942 convention, had one of the biggest units.

Two Killed, 3 Hurt in Crash at Minonk

Minonk, Ill., Aug. 25.—(AP)—Two persons were killed and three others injured yesterday in an automobile collision at an intersection near here.

The dead were Mrs. Orpha Howell, Pontiac, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Huxtable, Dana, Ill. Their auto collided with one driven by Mack Stanley, 35, of Lacon. Stanley, his wife, Elta, and Jack Piercy, Streator, were injured.

The Dominion of Canada has just raised the tax on cars with a factory price of under $700 from 20 to 25 per cent. Other taxes range to 80 per cent on the most expensive cars.

of CornWall, Chicago, is slated to drum - Marjorie Bunenmeyer of Peoria, first.

Young Republicans of County Enjoy Outing

More than a hundred persons attended the picnic of the Lee County Young Republicans organization held Saturday afternoon and evening at President Harry Herbst's cottage at White Rock. President Herbst proved a royal entertainer and arranged a fine program of features for the afternoon which were thoroughly enjoyed.

County Chairman H. C. Warner presided at the brief program, at which time short talks were made by Representative Dennis J. Collins of DeKalb and George F. Brydia of Prophetstown, Chairman Warner, Mayor William Slothower, Lyle Prescott and Frank E. Nangle of Paw Paw. At 5:30 o'clock a sumptuous picnic dinner was enjoyed which terminated a most enjoyable gathering.

A meeting of the county organization is to be held the latter part of September at which time the program of winter activities will be formed.

POWER AND SPEED... the unbeatable combination!

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS News Photo staff is the largest of its kind in existence. Moreover, APNP's organization abroad is the largest such outside the United States. In addition, the output of photographers on hundreds of AP newspapers is available to the AP—the association's cooperative principle in practice.

The AP Wirephoto network carries pictures from coast to coast with the speed of light. It is the world's only picture service operating over its own leased wire system.

Power of resources and speed of transmission, utilized with skill and perception by news photo experts—this is the unbeatable combination that is daily making "the picture with the story" an accepted accomplishment in nearly 800 AP newspapers.

Approximately 800 AP newspapers now benefit directly from AP Wirephoto, either as subscribers to Wirephoto or companion services, or to Telemats, the only news photo mat service based on Wirephotos.

Back Drapery Is Plentiful

Cutouts just like a dolly pattern adorn the snood of this new hat. And there's a fall trend—back drapery is plentiful and often fanciful. The pill-box fits low on the forehead, showing that fashion is moving hat lines forward as well as backward. This one is made a green silk velvet.

DIXON TEACHER HAS UNIQUE ADVENTURE IN EDUCATION

Government extension workers are attempting and are making progress in efforts to teach mountaineer families to vary their insufficient diet of the three "m's" (meat, molasses and meal); negroes resent being denied equal accommodations enjoyed by white families; there is strong feeling in the south against being labeled "the nation's No. 1 economic problem"; erosion control is being labeled "the nation's by both tenant farmers and share croppers; this year's cotton crop is expected to fall at least three-quarters short of the usual production; peaches are going to waste by the bushel due to lack of a market—these and endless other interesting facts gleaned from varied sources and angles meant a unique adventure in education for a Dixon faculty member, Miss Esther Barton, principal of the Lincoln grade school, who returned Thursday night from a five-week "Open Road" survey through the south, sponsored by the sociology department of Columbia university.

Dr. Gordon Blackwell, a Harvard graduate, who has been with the sociology department at Furman university at Greenville, S. C., and has accepted a similar position at Chapel Hill university, headed the party of 14, which included public health nurses, state extension and public welfare workers, and teachers from Cairo, Egypt; Santiago, Chile; and a Navajo Indian school in Arizona. Miss Barton was the only grade school teacher in the group.

Before heading southward, the party spent three days in Washington, D. C., interviewing numerous government officials, ranging from agricultural extension workers, members of the national resources planning board, several South Carolina congressmen, public health officials, and farm security administrators.

En route south, they visited historic Williamsburg, later proceeding to Duke university, where they conferred with the head of the university's sociology department, a recognized authority on inter-racial problems; and Chapel Hill university, where they interviewed the sociology head of that institution also.

In Charlotte county, North Carolina, they met with a county council composed of farmers, health workers, and other units which are cooperating to improve economic and living conditions. While in the mountains, the party made field trips into Georgia, Tennessee, and the Carolinas, delving into every available source of information regarding agricultural, industrial and social problems. Several types of welfare schools and projects were visited, and at one point, the entire party was "farmed out" to mountaineers for a night.

Miss Barton regrets that her host and hostess were the comparatively wealthy owners of a 200-acre farm, with well-planned meals, rather than affording her the privilege of observing the home life in a less fortunate family.

ly, experienced by several others in the party.

The visiting sociologists were favorably impressed with progress of government workers in their attempt to interest families in a federal-sponsored live-at-home program, which instructs the natives how to produce and preserve a variety of foods. The project was first introduced three years ago in various districts of the south.

Dozens of homes, particularly rural homes, gave the visitors a vivid insight into inter-racial problems. Negroes of the south, it was learned, resent not being granted the simple titles of Mr., Mrs., and Miss, not being permitted to cast a ballot in primary elections, and not being given salaries comparable to those of white workers, although all agreed they do not expect social equality with their white neighbors.

Heavy rains, permitting inroads by the boll weevil, has nearly ruined this year's cotton crops, as well as the early peaches. Late peaches, however, are so plentiful that much of the fruit is going to waste.

The "Open Road" project was originated a few years ago by a group including Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, John Rothchild, Stewart Chase and others, to encourage study abroad. Last year was the first time the plan was attempted in this country.

Duress

"Duress" is a two-dollar word used by lawyers. Under some circumstances it means force, or undue influence. Under others it means restraint.

If you go to your landlord and tell him to renew your lease at a figure of $10 a month lower than what you are now paying, and threaten to sue him in the law unless he signs instantly, he might sign, depending upon whether he feels like fighting or whether he has a legal mind. If he signs and then takes the matter to court to have the lease canceled, his lawyer will say the lease was obtained under duress, to wit: a threat to sue on the law. The court, knowing that a contract signed under duress is invalid, will declare it null and void. In most states a man obtaining money or favors by means of force or other pressure treads dangerously close to criminal prosecution.

That is true only in some instances, however. If you are a workman and the fellow you threaten is an employer, the item of duress seems not to be considered, no matter what you say. You may ask for a wage increase, shorter hours, closed shop, checkoff, sunny days or your employer's pants; if he hesitates you may threaten, bomb his house, blackmail his other employees, picket his place of business, wreck his plant or kidnap the governor and keep raising hob until he signs a contract. And he can't take that contract to court and have it annulled on the grounds of duress, distress or anything else. He's stuck.

Time was when the average American looked with loathing upon a few employers who exploited their workers to the last drop of sweat and until the last year of waning strength. The average American wanted justice done for such workmen. Now we have not only justice, but more also. Some elements of labor have proved to be no more just than the old-style, flint-hearted money-grubbers. The fact that the erstwhile victims of a few exploiters now prove themselves no more humane than the others is not surprising. It shows that men are pretty much the same whether they wear spats or overalls.

Beating Something With Something

Those who have been fearful of the advent of socialized medicine would do well to look at the Cleveland Hospital Service Association, through which 500,000 people protect themselves against the chance of sudden hospital expense. Just as in insurance, the members pay a small regular premium; then if hospital service is required, the association pays.

The plan has been under way, constantly growing, for seven years. It has a surplus, and everybody, hospitals, doctors, the city, and the members, find it good. In those seven years, one hospital alone has been paid more than a million dollars, others in proportion to size. More than 100,000 cases have been handled through the association, with a resultant lessening of worry, tax burden for free cases, garnishees and attachments and borderline compensation cases.

Broader means of assuring hospitalization to more people are a desirable social end. If opportunity is offered for people to do it co-operatively for themselves, there will be less cry for socialization. It takes something to beat something.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Aug. 24 — Mr. Roosevelt let down his National Mediation Board and his labor mentor Sidney Hillman in the Kearny strike trouble with a thud that may not have been heard outside, but it jarred the whole administration defense labor setup.

The boys are still picking themselves up from the floor. A well placed ear can hear some injured murmurs from them about "an executive ought to show some confidence in his delegated subordinates". An occasional whispered threat of a resignation can be detected also in the inner air, but the matter probably will not come to that.

To an impartial outside reporter, it seems the White House labor handlers merely over-committed the president while he was away on vacation. They thought he would take over the Kearny plant when they told him to. But every point of dispute had been settled except one—the union demand for a form of closed shop called the "maintenance of membership" shop. After all, the labor advisers were asking a lot in expecting the president to take over a plant just to make the employer promise to maintain the union in perpetuity.

While they were surprised at his first refusal, not many political advisers of the White House were. They know the president must justify plant seizures on solid, popular grounds.

It all came about this way: F. D. R.'s National Mediation Board came into the Kearny strike picture, long before the strike, through the insistence of Hillman, the White House defense labor man, who held some conferences with John Green, the CIO maritime union chief. Last June 30, Hillman succeeded in persuading Labor Secretary Frances Perkins into certifying the problem to the board.

The board wired the union, asking it not to strike. The union agreed. Hearings were ordered by the board to be held by a panel of three men who were not even full board members, only alternates. The panel was composed of the Secretary of the CIO, James B. Carey, chief Justice Walter P. Stone of North Carolina and Charles E. Adams, a businessman, chairman of the Air Reduction Corp. Hearings were held, July 7 to 14. Of the 13 points in dispute, 12 were settled, leaving only the closed shop issue.

The fact never got out, but the panel split 2 to 1 on that point, Adams vigorously dissenting. As all these government actions are supposed to be taken unanimously, and unanimity in the panel was impossible, the panel dumped the problem back on the full board. A five hour session was held here, and the mediation board could not agree.

As the potato was getting hotter all the time, the mediation board passed it back to the panel again. Immediately stories started reaching the press from authoritative quarters that Roosevelt would take over the plant. Hillman had some talks with the strike leader, Green, and both were working in this direction. So were some influential members of the labor mediation board.

They rallied representatives of four defense agencies (the Mediation Board, OPM, Maritime Commission and navy) to call on the president and recommend seizure. He heard them through, but Roosevelt can also recognize a hot potato, when he sees it. Without letting out any of the above cited facts which would have exposed the board, he merely wrote a letter to Green recommending that the union try again to reach an agreement with the management.

Mediation Board Chairman William H. Davis fumed silently. Hillman fumed. Green fumed. Roosevelt let them smoke, went off to Hyde Park for the week-end, announced there the plant might have to be taken over later, but some more negotiating would have to be tried first.

Meanwhile the strike entered its third week, with $493,000,000 of naval and merchant ship construction in the defense program tied up over the single point of whether the CIO union is to have a maintenance of union contract.

Under such a contract, all the shipyard employees who are now in the union, must remain in. They cannot resign, without being discharged from their jobs by the company. Any new employees hired by the company must join the union. Technically, any present employees who do not want to join the union, can refrain and hold their jobs. Under such a contract, the company "maintains" the union. For all practical purposes it is a closed shop, and it will actually become a closed shop as soon as present non-union employees are weeded out, lose their jobs, move on elsewhere, because all new employees must join the union.

When the government takes over the plant with force of arms to enforce this point it will be using the army and navy to impose the closed shop.

State Not Getting Share of Defense Orders Says Labor

Chicago, Aug. 25—(AP)—Cooperation between business and labor leaders, the executive board of the Illinois State Federation of Labor believes, will bring about more defense contracts for the state.

The board, through Secretary Victor A. Olander, has requested that labor and business work together in an effort to keep plants operating. In telegrams to business and industrial organizations and to central labor bodies in industrial centers, Olander said: "We had better act quickly or we may be confronted with idle plants and a peculiar spectacle of great numbers of workers leaving Illinois for defense jobs in other states. And that won't be good for Illinois labor or Illinois business or for the national defense."

The local labor units were instructed by the executive board to appoint committees to confer with Chambers of Commerce and other business groups in their communities on cooperation between them for the increased use of Illinois facilities for defense production.

Hasn't Received Share

"Illinois has not yet received its proportionate allotment of defense contracts", the telegrams said. "Because of priorities this may result in idle plants and a movement of Illinois workers into other states where more defense jobs are available. There are indications that the Office of Production Management is not yet fully aware of facilities available in Illinois. The nation needs more defense production and we believe it is our duty to point the way to the use of Illinois plants for that purpose."

The board's telegram urging cooperation were sent to Chambers of Commerce in industrial areas and to the Illinois Manufacturers Association, the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, Chicago Association of Commerce, Associated Employers of Illinois, and the Illinois Coal Operators Association.

MRS. ELIZABETH WATERS

Elizabeth Steinmann, oldest child of Martin and Mary Steinmann was born at Wilkes Barre, Pa., February 10, 1855, and passed away in Denver, Colo., Sunday evening, August 10, 1941.

When she was six months old her parents moved to a farm near Lanark, Ill., at what was then called, Cherry Grove. Later her father built a home about one mile north of Lanark on the farm which is now known as the Hawk farm. Here she grew up and attended the Lanark public school. At the age of seventeen she was converted and joined the Christian church there and was faithful member till she moved to Dixon 50 years ago.

On October 17, 1878, she was united in marriage to Josiah H. Waters, son of Reuben and Mary Waters. Three children were born of the union, Eva May, who passed away at the age of five years; Mrs. A. She leaves to mourn her passing also two brothers, Chas. A. of Chicago, and Victor of Denver, Colorado, eight grandchildren and six great grandchildren. Three sisters and two brothers preceded her in death. She lived a long and useful life, always glad to do a kindness for her neighbors and friends.

Will Fix Ceiling on Bituminous Coal Cost

Washington, Aug. 25—(AP)—

The bituminous coal producers' boards and regional marketing agencies have been asked to submit schedules for maximum prices for bituminous coal.

In announcing this today, the bituminous coal division said the schedules would be submitted in connection with a public hearing September 9 on a request by the bituminous coal consumers' counsel for establishment of maximum coal prices to protect consumers from "excessive and oppressive" prices.

The 21 boards and 14 provisionally approved marketing agencies were asked to propose maximum prices, "in terms of uniform increases, or by other methods, which will yield a reasonable return above the 'weighted average' cost of producing coal for each district."

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Mind" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 24.

The Golden Text was "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (1 Corinthians 2:16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counselor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:33, 34, 36).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit is divine Principle, and divine Principle is Love, and Love is Mind, and Mind is not both good and bad, for God is Mind; therefore there is in reality one Mind only, because there is one God" (p. 339).

Horses and Mules May Soon Be Back Rearing America

Chicago, Aug. 25—(AP)—Horses and mules, once considered casualties of the gasoline age soon may be back to work helping to rear America.

Demand for machines and fuel has stimulated the need for power so the old gray mare and "Dobbin", erstwhile kingly of transportation on farms and in city, already have benefited directly. Military requirements were a potent prod along the comeback trail.

Ways Dinsmore, of the Horse and Mule Association of America, today predicted the steady decline of the nation's work animal population soon would halt.

"Any rationing of gasoline or higher prices and any difficulty in obtaining machines or trucks for rural or city use or in obtaining parts is likely to be felt by the horse and mule business", he said.

He pointed out that a Chicago trucking concern only recently substituted two teams for motor vehicles for short haul work in the loop.

Population Declines

In 1920 the nation's horse and mule population was approximately 25,000,000 head, valued at more than $2,700,000,000. This had dropped to 19,000,000 head by 1930 with a valuation of $1,400,000,000. On January 1 this year production was approximately 14,500,000 head, valued at $1,100,000,000, of which 10,300,000 were horses and mules.

Prices hit a 20-year peak in 1937 but since have declined rather sharply. Average price received by farmers for horses in mid-July was only $60.50 per head compared with $74.50 a year ago and a five-year average from 1909 to 1914 of $136.60. Mules brought $57.60 compared with $93.20 a year ago and a 1909-14 average of $153.90.

People's Column

IN APPRECIATION

Has anyone told Miss Lillian M. Tomlinson and Mrs. R. Dora E. Hughes how much we enjoyed the Sunday afternoon programs in the Loveland House last year? Perhaps you have overlooked that courtesy just as the writer did. Yet anyone who attended any of those programs and community "sings" would say they were among the pleasantest hours of entertainment available to the citizens of Dixon. Mrs. Hughes is to be commended highly for her work. The writer believes not fewer than seven people participated in any program and often the number was much larger. Some of the best talent of the community was donated at Mrs. Hughes' request and all of it was of a nature to be greatly enjoyed. Every Sunday all the people sang together in a friendly fashion. The fine leadership of those who gave their services in directing the "sings" should also be gratefully acknowledged. The splendid attendance throughout the season is the best tribute of the people's appreciation, and may we all say, "Thank you, Mrs. Hughes and Miss Tomlinson."

APPRECIATIVE.

Included in the long line of trucks which rolled out of this post early yesterday were 19,000-ton vehicles hauling guns and searchlights and many half-ton "jeeps".

"In all, 790 vehicles were in the caravan which moved through central Illinois at an average speed of 30 miles an hour. The trucks were so grouped as to provide a minimum of congestion for civilian traffic."

The unit is scheduled to arrive in Lake Village, Ark. Aug. 30 and is due back here in about six weeks.

SERIAL STORY

WANT-AD ROMANCE

BY TOM HORNER

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER I

SECRETARY-RECEPTIONIST young, attractive, capable; must keep books. Apply in person to 2660 Simpson Edg.

THE dark-eyed girl circled the help wanted ad with a heavy, black line. Similar circles were scattered over the page. She read on, poised her pencil, changed her mind, then abruptly folded the newspaper.

"That's enough to keep me walking until midnight," she said, half aloud. "And probably every single job will be taken just five minutes before I get there."

"You talking to me, Miss?" She had not noticed the young man at the far end of the park bench.

"No. Oh, no!" She could feel her cheeks color; she knew her rack was crimson. Why should she blush because a stranger asked a civil question? She opened the paper again, stared at it without seeing words.

He was a nice looking fellow—not a park bench loafer. Some youngster, just out of college, looking for his first job. Possibly a football player, she decided, eyeing him from the protection of the paper. Well, he should have no trouble finding a job—at least not as much trouble as she was having.

THE boy at the end of the bench looked up, caught her staring at him, grinned.

"Any luck? I see you're reading want-ads, too."

The grin forced her answer. How could this brother-in-unemployment sit there and grin as if he owned the world? He wouldn't think life quite so funny if he had no more money than she had in her purse.

"Nothing much," she answered at last, trying to make her voice sound a little friendly. "I walk and walk, and every place I go, I find the job has been filled."

"Tough," he agreed. He extended a package of cigarettes, "Here, one!"

She shook her head. "Never learned how."

"Wish I hadn't." He blew smoke toward a cloud. "Wish I didn't have to go looking for a job. Much rather just sit here in the sun, talk to you." He said the last words so softly she hardly heard him.

"It's a grand day for park bench sitting," she agreed. "But no work, no cat. And I get hungry."

"Don't go," he asked. "I really want to talk to you—to someone." The grin flashed on again. She determined not to let it influence her again.

"I'm no maser—no park-bench Romeo"—he was like a child asking her to help him—"I won't even ask your name and address. I've just been fired and I want to talk to someone to get a little confidence. You can leave anytime."

Illustrated by John Sunley

The young man was paying no attention to her. She noted he was reading the classified pages, too. He was a nice-looking fellow—not a park bench loafer. Possibly a football player, she decided, eyeing him from the protection of the paper. Well, he should have no trouble finding a job—at least not as much trouble as she was having.

really great advertising stunt for Ace-High tables. But I had a little bad luck.

"You know how people at a circus like to watch a clown walk back and forth on a high tower of tables and chairs? I was going to do that—not away—but I built a tower of Ace-High tables on the sidewalk right in front of the store. Ten of 'em. Had to get a ladder to set them up.

"Then, while thousands of people watched—" He caught her smile. "There were at least 300," he admitted. "—while they watched, I climb onto a window onto the top table. Cops arrive and tell me to come down. Traffic jams. I. The sidewalk is blocked. I tell the cops, and the crowd, that I'm out to prove that Ace-High tables stand up under any strain.

"More people stop and gawk. More cops. Reporters. Photographers. It's almost as good as a flop-sit. Then—it happened."

"What?"

"Old Ace-High let me down, and completely. I fell through the top of the highest table, legs collapsed, tables tumbled every where. A cop got a bump on his head when I landed on him with a table around my middle. Four persons were hit by falling tables, all injured. Two women fainted. The show window was cracked. I was arrested for inciting a riot, disturbing the peace and assaulting an officer.

"I didn't go back to work until this morning—I left again, almost immediately."

"The girl made no effort to hide her laughter now. "I can see you, on top of 10 card tables."

Ted laughed, too. "It was a swell idea," he insisted, "but I'm glad it didn't work. That stunt is going to cost old Archibald all the salary he didn't pay me." He turned to the girl. "How about you? No flop-sit sitting?"

SHE shook her head. "No stunt, no crowd, no tables. I just got tired of the same old daily routine

Reward

New York, Aug. 25—(AP)—That five-cent piece that Louis Posner, a Brooklyn mail man, found six months ago is his to keep now if he wants to claim it. You must remember Posner. He found the nickel on Bergen street and walked about four miles to Brooklyn police headquarters and turned in the nickel. The time effort and paper used in recording his find was conservatively estimated to have cost the city $25. Today, six months after the finding, the nickel was reposing, properly tagged and identified, in the police property clerk's office. Since nobody has claimed it, Posner is now legally entitled to collect a reward—ownership of the article he turned in.

Windstorm Cause of Death, Heavy Damage in East

Philadelphia, Aug. 25—(AP)—A windstorm that approached cyclonic proportions swept through a tri-state area today, killing at least one person and injuring a score or more of others, toppling factory smokestacks, and homes, and leaving a trail of other property damages. The wind hit with terrific force at Swedesboro and Woodbridge, N. J., and Wilmington, Del., about 1 p. m. Philadelphia streets were flooded.

Eleven airplanes were smashed at the DuPont airport in Wilmington and airport officials said only three appeared to be worth repairing.

Five smokestacks tumbled down upon the Edgar F. Hurff canning plant at Swedesboro, injuring employees and killing George Hemple, about 35, a milkman passing by in a truck.

A synthetic rubber plant at Woodbridge was reported aflame after the passage of the storm. Trucks in that vicinity were overturned. About 20 houses were blown down.

Hospitals at Woodbury, N. J., and Perth Amboy were crowded with the injured. Three women and a boy, who had taken refuge in a barn near Wilmington, were plunged 15 feet into a basement when the structure collapsed. They were taken to Wilmington hospital, all unconscious, after police pulled them from under the wreckage.

The storm cut a 10-mile wide swath through northern Delaware, swept across the Delaware river into New Jersey in to the Swedesboro section, and then hit again with shattering force to the northeast at Woodbridge in the direction of New York.

Kingdom's Army

south. Their prime objective was to win a race against time and prevent sabotage and destruction of vital oil pipe lines and fields by German specialists alleged to have infiltrated into the country.

The chief purpose of the Russians in joining in the invasion was to secure the U. S. S. R.'s southern or "side door" frontier from the possibly disruptive influences of a German "fifth column" in Iran which the Russians have said was attempting to engineer a coup d'etat such as that which upset Iraq.

Anglo-soviet occupation of the land, it was pointed out by observers, also would establish a juncture of British and soviet forces and a line of communication from the Persian gulf in the event the German drive in the Ukraine develops into a threat against Russian oil fields in the Caucasus.

The British operations were directed from Simla by Sir Archibald P. Wavell, newly appointed commander in India who engineered Britain's brilliant desert campaign against the Italians in Libya last winter.

Count on Diplomacy But the British doubted that Iran resistance would develop on a major scale and were counting on diplomacy to win as much as arms.

It was assumed the main British push was developing from Basra, in Iraq on the Persian gulf. There was a chance, however, that Britain would use undisputed naval mastery in the gulf to land troops along the coast, particularly against Bushire, the principal Iranian port, and Bandar Abbas, another port farther south.

The soviet presumably were moving through the difficult passes from Armenia, west of the Caspian sea, with Tabriz their first objective.

The British push from Basra was intended first to cut the railway from Bandar Shapur on the Persian gulf, to Teheran, the most important means of communication in the country.

Sovereignty Not Threatened The British foreign office declared that there was no intention to threaten the independence or sovereignty of Iran, and that as soon as the German threat diminished the British troops would be withdrawn.

Much Speculation

by the present Japanese expansion southward in Asia. Thereafter, however, the stress was on the efforts of the United States to preserve peace in the Far East.

Admonished U. S.

Besides the Far East, another discussion-provoking topic was the length to which Churchill went in admonishing the United States to have no illusions about its place on Hitler's program of conquest.

It was the first time that the prime minister has dwelt extensively on what he conceived to be the German intentions regarding this country. He recited the results of the Nazi "one by one" strategy—the list of nations overcome singly—and said the turn of the United States would come if Russia and Britain could be disposed of.

In some diplomatic quarters, this part of the speech was looked on as an oblique appeal for active American participation on Britain's side. It was pointed out that he cited the fate of the many countries that failed to take united and positive action against the German danger until it was too late.

Japan Must Cease

ish newspapers today.

Calls Japs Menace

The Japanese, he said, "now stretch a grasping hand into the southern seas of China. They snatch Indo-China from the wretched Vichy French. They menace the Singapore British link with Australasia and menace the Philippine islands which are under the protection of the United States."

"It is certain that this has got to stop. Every effort will be made to secure a peaceful settlement. The United States are laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement which will give Japan the utmost reassurance for her legitimate interests. We earnestly hope these negotiations will succeed. But this I must say, that if these hopes should fail we shall, of course, range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States."

Churchill said the meeting with Roosevelt represented the forces of "two major groupings of the human family who happen to speak the same language."

Some of his most trenchant prose was used in describing how Adolf Hitler turned on Russia.

Hitler a "Devil" "Here is a devil," he said, "who in the mere spasms of his pride and lust for domination can condemn two or three millions—perhaps it may be many more—of human beings to speedy and violent death."

"Ah, but this time it was not so easy. This time it was not all one way. x x x Perhaps a million and a half, perhaps two millions, of Nazi cannon fodder have bit the dust of the endless plains of Russia."

"The aggressor is surprised, startled, staggered. For the first time in his experience, mass murder has become unprofitable x x x"

He emphasized that contrasted with the allied attitude adopted during the latter part of the World war, there were "to distinct and marked differences" in the eight-point declaration drawn up by Roosevelt and himself.

He said: "The United States and Great Britain do not now assume that there will never be any more war again. On the contrary, we intend to take ample precautions to prevent its renewal in any period we can foresee by effectively disarming the guilty nations while remaining suitably protected ourselves."

"The second difference is this: That instead of trying to ruin German trade x x x we have definitely adopted the view that it is not in the interests of the world and of our two countries that any large nation should be unprosperous or shut off from means of making a decent living for itself and its people by its industry and enterprise."

reassurance for her legitimate interests. We earnestly hope that these negotiations will succeed."

This is doubly interesting when coupled with a statement Saturday night by the Japanese ambassador to Washington, Admiral Nomura. He declared that the conflict between America and Japan "must be bridged" and that he had "a very strong conviction that it will be," although he didn't know just how.

Churchill supplemented his statement about the negotiations with the declaration that if hopes for their success fail, then "We shall, of course, range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States." However, that stand was rather a foregone conclusion.

Whether the exchanges between Washington and Tokyo have gone further than has been announced, the prime minister's statement is calculated to give some hope that the crisis may be solved without resort to force.

Thirty-fifth Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. Jennie Wilder and Mrs. Oscar Trump attended the thirty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Will Wilder of Rock Falls on Sunday, August 24. It was a surprise planned by their son Maynard and wife. At 1 o'clock a sumptuous picnic dinner was par-taken of from long tables on the lawn of the new home of the Wilders. Flowers and two 3-tiered wedding cakes, topped with miniature bride and groom were the table decorations. The cakes were cut by the bride and groom of 35 years ago, and served with ice cream. After dinner a short program was given.

Herman Oltman and Austin Corzett of Rock Falls sang "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream." A reading entitled "Thirty-five Years" was given by Mrs. Trump, sister of Mr. Wilder. "Blest Be the Tie" was sung by Mr. Oltman and Mr. Corzette. Then Mrs. Wilder's mother, Mrs. Jennie Wilder had celebrated her eighty-third birthday on Wednesday, the group joined in singing "Happy Birthday" for her.

A mock wedding was then held, the bride being Leo Blair of Galt, dressed in a stunning gown and a long lace curtain veil carried by two little girls; the groom, Mrs. Jessie Duke of Sterling looked rather nifty in a tan suit. The bridesmaid, Lloyd Hunter of Sterling, wore a white dress and blue hat. The best man, Mr. Oscar Trump of Polo wore a tuxedo suit as did Miss Ethel Blair of Sterling who acted as minister. As the bride party appeared on the lawn, Mr. Corzett sang "I Love You Truly." All together it was rather an amusing affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilder were presented with a lovely floor lamp. They both responded graciously. Elwood Plant Turns Out Aerial Bombs 2 Months Ahead Time

Elwood, Ill., Aug. 25—(AP)—Production of the first aerial bombs at the $30,000,000 shell-loading plant here was due to get underway this week—more than two months ahead of schedule.

The bombs will roll off a mile-long assembly line, similar to that placed in operation July 12 for production of artillery shells. A third line is expected to open next month and a fourth is under full speed construction.

Work on the big project started last Nov. 15 under a contract calling for completion in 12 months.

Supervising Officer Lieut. Col. T. C. Gerber says the 23 square miles of buildings and magazines comprise "the largest shell loading plant now operating in the United States, and possibly in the world."

Illinois Soldiers Under Increasing Pressure in South

With the Second Army in Arkansas, Aug. 25—(AP)—Red Kotmk, the fabled country of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri and Kentucky that is "invading" blue Almat (Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee), opened a broad frontal attack today on the blue Seventh corps of the Second army in southwest Arkansas and simultaneously extended a wide flanking movement around the blue battle line.

And this was posed for the 75,000 Seventh Corps men caught in pincers the fourth problem of the Arkansas maneuvers - - that of strategic withdrawal to prepared positions in rolling country toward Camden.

The withdrawal held for maximum coordination between the three divisions holding the front, and the 75th field artillery brigade of Tennessee which rolled up to support the temporarily successful Almat drive on the invaders last week.

DON BOWERS WINS CADDIES' TOURNAMENT
Don Bowers, son of Athletic Director and Mrs. A. C. Bowers, won the Dixon Country club's caddy tournament Saturday when he carded 43 and 41 for 84 to defeat Gene Hawker. The runnerup came in with a card of 46 and 43 for 89. Bowers won, 2 and 1. In the semi-finals Hawker had eliminated Ray Joyn and Bowers defeated John Todd.

THIS SHOULD BE DONE IN TECHNICOLOR
You may want to line the streets tomorrow for the parade which is promised sometime in the afternoon. It seems that Eddie Nagle and Earl James had a little wager about the White Sox-Yankee doubleheader yesterday and if the Yankees swept the series (which they did) James was to push Nagle down first street in a wheelbarrow. We often hear about such things, but are they ever carried out? We'll have our nose out the door all afternoon tomorrow to see if we can detect the parade.

WINNERS IN TRAIL RIDE CLASS
Twenty-five riders in a variety of outfits and their horses were entered in the trail ride class as part of the Saturday night show at the county fair. The event, sponsored by the Rock River Trail Ride and Horseman association, was judged on manners and suitability for trail riders. Mary Louise Dysart of Franklin Grove won first; Grace Merrill of Aurora, second; Mrs. Louis Casola of Rockford, third; Mrs. L. S. Griffith of Ambly, fourth. The association presented a halter, trophy, whip for prizes and Buck Lambert gave a neck rope for fourth place award. Judges were Harry Cook of Ottawa, Doug Ross of Oregon and Kenneth Knapp of Polo.

QUOTE AND UNQUOTE
In the 1941 Football Annual, edited by Eddie Dooley, former All-American quarterback, he says in his predictions of 1941 stars: "Shades of the Four Horsemen, Don Miller, a famous name, will ride on the gridiron at Wisconsin. This boy, a hard runner, is apt to make a name for himself, especially with big Mark Hoskins to clear the way." And we all know that Don Miller is Dixon's contribution to the Big Ten!

OH, UNHAPPY DAZE
Willard Jones, the dentist having pushed him around for a few hours, went out to the country club Saturday afternoon to play his tournament match with Lee Shoaf. Things went black for Jones when Shoaf carded a 39 (had a 3 on No. 1). After the match Willard was heard to mumble: "Now if the Sox lost today, I'll have to go out and commit suicide." What he must have suffered yesterday! Bonnie Blue Eyes, who does some scouting for us, got Jones to make a statement today: "As a matter of fact, I didn't even know the White Sox were playing yesterday—but don't mention that to Danielson. Of course, anyway, the Sox can lose 50 more games and still be ahead of the Cubs. It is rumored, though no one can verify it, that the Cubs will be playing in Chicago next week."

TO MT. MORRIS TOURNEY
Dixon tennis players will participate in the Mt. Morris Invitational Tennis tournament at the Mounders' courts this week end, Saturday, Sunday and Monday (Labor Day).

COUNTRY CLUB TOURNEY
In straight match play several tournament events were played at the Dixon Country club this past week end. Emerson Rorer beat J. Fred Hoffmann 5 and 4. George Joyce defeated Gene Barrowman 1 up. Cal G. Tyler defeated L. J. Fontaine, 3 and 2. Ken Detweiler, defending champion, defeated Dr. H. A. Lazier, 6 and 5. Floyd Smith eliminated Joe Miller, 4 and 3. Frank Rorer has defeated Jim Furlong, 2 and 1. Lee Shoaf scored a 7 and 6 triumph over Willard Jones. In the Barrowman-Joyce match, Gene was three down and came back to tie the count just before he lost 1 up.

STORY BEHIND THE NEWS
Bob Hedrichs of Polo who won first in the horsemanship class at the county fair Friday afternoon was riding his five-gaited mare which he bought last year when the animal was crippled. He nursed the mare all winter and began riding only a month ago and was, of course, showing in competition for the first time.

IT WAS TOO BAD, BILL
That White Sox-Yankee doubleheader was a gloomy affair for more than one Dixon fan. Take, for instance, young Billy James, age 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl James, who thrilled at the chance to see his team perform against the league leaders—and then it had to end in such a disappointment. Billy, with his parents, Sister Susan and Brother Jerry were among those from Dixon who saw the games yesterday. Billy is one of the most complete and loyal fans the Sox have. He knows all the batting and fielding averages of the players by heart and can rattle off any information you might want to know. He keeps his statistics up to date after each player comes to bat—and really knows his Sox from A to Z. Too bad about yesterday, Bill.

YOUNG RIDING EXPERT
Norman Smith, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Smith, of 107 Lincoln Drive, was riding for his second year in the Lee County Fair & Horse Show Friday afternoon. This year he took first in the children's horsemanship class for riders under 12 years and third in the Lee County class. Last year he rode Sally Prescott's pony, Jimmie, and graduated this year to the bigger horse, Susie, owned by the Dickey Academy.

NOCTURNAL TRAIL RIDE
Local horsemen will try out some of the lessons learned at the Lee County Fair & Horse Show when they have an after night ride this Thursday. Riders will leave the Dickey Academy at 6 o'clock and will return to an outdoor steak fry with trimmings.

CALL TO DIXON GRIDDERS
Coach and Mrs. C. B. Lindell and son Stevie returned to Dixon Saturday night from Colorado where the high school mentor has been taking summer courses. Lindell announced today that equipment for local football candidates will be given out Saturday at the high school between the hours of 10 and 12 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. All boys must present their doctor's certificates in compliance with the state law and they must also have written statements from their parents on consent to play. The Lindells left this morning for his home town, Winfield, Ia. and will return to Dixon late Wednesday night.

KRAMER AND SCHROEDER RULE 5 DOUBLES CHAMPS

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 25—(AP)—California's 20-year-old Jack Kramer and Ted Schroeder ruled the tennis courts today as the first successful National Doubles champions the game has produced in seven years, since mighty George Lott and Lester Stoeft turned professional.

Those capable youngsters retained their titles in impressive fashion yesterday when they trounced Gardner Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., one of last year's runners-up, and Wayne Sabin of Portland, Ore., 9-7, 6-4, 6-2.

Shortly before they clinched their eighth victory in nine starts this season, Mrs. Sarah Paley Cooke, New York, ran her string of national championships to 36 by performing on the winning women's and mixed doubles teams.

Mrs. Cooke, teamed with Margery Osborne of San Francisco to defeat Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, and Dorothy Bundy of Santa Monica, Cal., 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Kramer enabled Mrs. Cooke to share the mixed titles again by defeating Miss Betz and Bobby Riggs of Chicago, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Plum Hollow's Golfers Triumph Over Country Clubbers

COURSE RECORD IS SMASHED BY FELDKIRCHNER

Nineteen Players Have Scores Under 80 in Intercity Match

You could trot out all the old chestnuts of sports writing—"small but mighty," "good things come in small packages" and "youth just will prevail"—but you still haven't described young Skeeter Feldkirchner who turned in a record-smashing score of 67 yesterday over the hills of the Plum Hollow course as the hosts defeated the Country club, 39 to 24, in the second intercity match of the season.

A Hollywood publicity man would call Skeeter's game yesterday "colossal", and wouldn't be slapping it on too thick. Skeet's score included three birdies and the rest pars on the first nine when he totaled 33, three under par. On the back stretch he was one over par on No. 1, had three birdies, an eagle (No. 8) and was two over par on No. 4 for a 34. Playing in his foursome was Dr. H. A. Lazier who came in full of praise for the young high school lad's golf game and competitive spirit.

Feldkirchner's score card:
Par ..... 344 444 553—36
Out ..... 343 443 543—35
In ..... 433 644 433—24
Although Feldkirchner took all individual honors, it was a day for low scores and several others came in for a bit of clubhouse backslapping. Ralph Coffey turned in the lowest card for the Country clubbers when he scored a 71 which included birdies on Nos. 7 and 8 each time around. Bill Witzleb, playing for the Plum Hollow winners, carded 34-39 for 73. Em Rorer, also Plum Hollow, had 36-37 for 73. Ken Detweiler of the Country club is touted the course in 36-36 for 72, hitting par right on the nose for each nine. Others in the 70s were Darrell Reis with 78, Doc Lazier with 78, Babe Martin with 79, Don Raymond with 74, Abe Martin with 78, Ed Worley with 73, Al Wolfe with 79, Warren Badger with 72 as he counted 34 and 38. Bob Axline with 74, Jim Palmer with 79, Oscar Witzleb with 76, Earl Pelton with 79, Lee Shoaf with 78, Cal Tyler with 76. Nineteen players had a score of 79 or better.

Yesterday's match left the two city clubs in a tie with one win each. The Country club won the match on the home course, 63 to 58, earlier in the season.

People You Know
Al Schacht will miss his first World Series in 21 years this fall; he's heading for Hawaii instead. Friends of the late Howard Jones have launched a movement for a memorial to him, probably in the Rose Bowl where Jones-coached teams won five times. Word from Milwaukee is that Lou Novikoff will be recalled by the Cubs as soon as the Brewers finish their American Association schedule, even though Lou's fielding has left a lot to be desired. Patty Berg, who gets her fun from football and flying, expects to hop a plane home for at least one Minnesota grid game this fall. Russ Van Atta, former Yankees and Browns' pitcher, is a candidate for sheriff in Sussex County, N. J. Heinie Manush, managing the Greensboro club, has been chased out of every Piedmont League park by the unps this season. Heinie put himself into a game as pinchhitter the other night and bunched it up with a healthy poke, so now he threatens to return as a regular.

Bill Fischer Wins Trapshooting Event Here Yesterday

Bill Fischer scored high gun at the Airport traps Sunday afternoon and his best round, broke 24 out of 25 blue rocks which sailed from the traps for the best score of the day. Mrs. Unger who is showing much improvement, broke 18 out of 25 besting "Forty Rod" Tomkins by two targets. Shooting at 10 yards at 25 targets, scores recorded were:
Bill Fischer, 24-23 and 19; Earl Antoine, 20-18 and 16; Mrs. Unger 18-15 and 13; Mert Ransom, 15-14-12; Charles Loyd, 19-16; Joe Unger, 13-13, Art Nafziger, 21-18-12; Art Sheffield, 20 "Pie" Tomkins, 16; Fred Miller, 8.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Pinch-hitting for Eddie Brietz)
New York, Aug. 25—(The Special News Service)—Well, the Yankees are in...Joe McCarthy, who usually is the last to admit it, came out in the open Saturday when he benched a couple of regulars with the explanation: "They won the pennant and so are entitled to a short layoff." Looks like the National will keep going, as usual, right to the last minute.

Wonder what Larry (The Other Lip) MacPhail thinks now of his failure to include Dixie Walker and Whit Wyatt among the guys who are responsible for keeping the Brooks on top. Lot of the other clubs are busier guessing how many guys, including managers, will have their jobs next year than they are playing ball games. Word from Detroit is that there'll be plenty of axe work on the salary list if the Tigers don't make the first division. Cleveland writers now are calling 'em "Peck's Bad Boys"...And a tipoff on the Tribe's collapse is that Jimmy Dykes does his manag-ing from the bench against all the other clubs but gets out in the coaching box against the Indians to make sure they won't miss one of his cracks.

Rhymed Sports Review
Jones' boys versus Ryder Cup-pers made golf fans go without their suppers. Twelve thousand of 'em raised a din to see their hero, Bobby, win. Cards and Dodgers split a pair with pennant fever in the air. Lousia-Nova fight set back when Joe got off the training track. Derby goes to Whirlaway and forty-five grand isn't hay. Ward should cop the Amateur, but golfing experts aren't too sure. Framer-Schroeder win in doubles; at Forest Hills they'll have their troubles. And that is all the news there is, so let us stop this monkey biz.

Reds Trounce Giants
The Cincinnati Reds, coming fast but probably too late, gained a game on both the leaders by trouncing the New York Giants, 13-9, and 6-4. Supposedly a weak-hitting club, they made 33 hits in the two games.

The flying Phillies cut down the Chicago Cubs twice, 8-5 and 7-6, while the Pittsburgh Pirates split with the Boston Braves. Boston took the 12-inning opener, 4-3, and Pittsburgh the nightcap 7-3, in six stanzas.

The New York Yankees showed any doubtful American Leaguers and 44,296 Chicago fans that they still were boss by swamping the second-place White Sox, 5-1 and 8-5. Charley Keller hit his 31st and 32nd home runs.

The St. Louis Browns put the Washington Senators through a 4-3 10-inning wringer to bounce from the cellar into sixth place. Rain postponed the second game of their scheduled doubleheader. Al Benton pitched the Detroit Tigers to a 7-4 decision over the Philadelphia Athletics.

The Cleveland Indians downed the Boston Red Sox, 4-3 and 5-2, holding the Red Soxers to seven hits in the first game and six in the second.

It was in 1933 that Mrs. Mann took the title the first time. Her 4 and 3 victory over Mary Agnes Wall of Menominee, Mich., Saturday clinched the event again. It was her second 1941 tournament victory over Miss Wall, whom she defeated in the trans-Mississippi meet at Houston.

WYATT'S SINGLE SAVES DODGERS' LEAD OVER CARDS

Movie-Ending to Game Is Part of Current Pennant Race

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Long after this season is over and the stirring struggle of the St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers for the National League pennant has been settled, one thrill will remain memorable for 31,000 baseball fans.

For the fanatics packed into Ebbets field at yesterday's crucial double-header between the foremost rivals of the senior circuit, the season reached a high point when Whitlow Wyatt singled in the ninth inning to snatch a 3-2 victory in the face of encroaching darkness and save Brooklyn's game and a half lead over the Cardinals, who had swept majestically to a 7-3 triumph in the first encounter.

It was a finish lifted right out of a scenario. The teams were playing for big stakes and the St. Louis victory in the opener had cut the Dodgers' lead to a half game. Wyatt, a grand veteran, was wrapped in a breathless pitching duel with 20-year-old Howard Pollet, a lefthander who had been a sensation in the Texas League till the Redbirds promoted him 10 days ago.

Pollet Pitches Superbly
Pollet pitched superbly, allowing only five hits till the ninth. But he got into a jam in the fourth inning and Dixie Walker smashed a double along the left field line for two runs. The Cardinals had counted a run in the first on three singles and in the eighth they tied the score with another on a double by Coaker Triplett and a single by Frank (Creepy) Crespi.

With this the situation when the Dodgers came to bat for the last time, Peevée Reese laid a perfect bunt down the third base line for a single. Mickey Owen sacrificed with an equally-effective bunt down the first-base line. Then Manager Leo Durocher came trotting in from the coaching box and put his arm around Wyatt. The fans expected a pinch-hitter. Instead Durocher left Wyatt to bat for himself. The conference he said later, was just to tell Wyatt to wait for a curve ball.

The curve came on the first pitch and Wyatt, who swings the heaviest bat on the Brooklyn club, met it squarely. It was a single that shot straight into center and put the Dodgers back in a commanding position for the rest of this series, a game today and another tomorrow. The victory was Wyatt's 17th.

Dixon Bird Owners Win Top Honors in Pigeon Race Event

Dixon's two racing pigeon fanciers, B. S. Schildberg of 323 Chamberlin street, and Donald Steder of 515 Second avenue, won top honors in Sunday's 150-mile race from Tama, Ia.

Mr. Schildberg's birds, "Bank Note" and "Pay Day," won first and second prizes and diplomas with speeds of 857.63 yards and 856.06 yards per minute.

Mr. Steder placed third to make it a clean sweep for the Dixon owners over their brother fanciers from Sterling, Rock Falls and Morrison.

The weather was cool and cloudy with cloudiness always having a tendency to hinder homing pigeons. Thus the birds that have reached this point of the race schedule, have proved their worth to their owners.

Next Sunday's race will be a repeat from Tama, Ia. Other results from yesterday's event were: Edward Pell of Morrison, fourth; Charles Reese of Rock Falls, fifth; and Lowell Baer of Rock Falls, sixth.

Tennis Champion

WARD SMITH

Playing tennis so hot that it even put blisters on his opponent's feet, Ward Smith defended his Dixon singles tennis championship for another year yesterday afternoon at the high school courts where he defeated George Covert with sts of 1-6, 6-1, 6-3 and 6-1.

The long three-and-a-half hour tournament finale found the champion playing a smart brand of tennis with excellent lobbing and close baseline play. Most of the games went to four or five deuces and was in closer competition than the set scores indicated.

Covert, champion of the city for three years straight (1937-38-39) played good tennis in all sets but was seriously troubled by blisters on his feet. In the third set Smith fell on the court and hurt his knee and the two finalists took out time for recess. When play was resumed Smith was hotter than a pistol and came through brilliantly to win.

In the semi-finals Ward defeated Alan Wieman, 6-0 and 6-4. Covert eliminated Dick Joslyn, 6-4 and 6-3.

Bob Preston and Charles Kearney were the referees for the championship match.

Lesnevich Meets Mauriello Tonight In Garden Ring

By SID FEDER
New York, Aug. 25—(AP)—A couple guys are going to climb into Madison Square Garden's ring tonight and look in a gasoline tank with a lighted match.

Naturally, they're not going to drive right into the place. But with what young Tami Mauriello and Gus Lesnevich pack in their fists, the results figure to be the same. They're slated to tangle 15 rounds for the honest-to-fash world's light-weight championship—the whole thing this time and not just a piece of it at the disposal of one commission or another. But if their records and walloping abilities are any indication, someone is going to hear the birdies sing.

Not Too Many Customers
There won't be too many customers on hand to see it happen. Say 12,000 or so, paying into a gross pot of some $25,000 for the opening of the Garden indoor season.

On experience and weight, Lesnevich rules a 5 to 7 betting choice. The rugged Russian from Jersey boasts a record marred by defeat by only one light-heavyweight. That one was Billy Conn, the movie hero who abdicated the 175-pound crown to try for the heavyweight title. On that record, this corner likes Gus to knock off the Bronx banger and thereby clean up the light-heavyweight hillaries which have been playing the bushes since the National Boxing Association took Conn's title away and Billy turned right around and passed up the New York Commission sanction. Lesnevich has been recognized as boss by the N. B. A. ever since he cuffed Anton Cristoforidis around some months back.

Red earthenware production in the U. S. principally flower pots, is valued at more than $2,000,000 annually.

Browns—Pulled successful squeeze play in 10th inning to beat Washington.

Al Benton, Tigers—Pitched his ninth victory over the Athletics.

Plum Hollow's Golf Meet Now In Semi-Finals

Plum Hollow's current golf tournament—which is causing almost as much enthusiasm among the fellows as if Gypsy Rose Lee were in Class A competition in poker golf—has now proceeded to the semi-finals after a long list of week end matches.

All of the scores turned in over the week end were counted in the Class C competition.

W. J. McMullen defeated Francis Duffy, 7 up. Their scores:
McMullen ..... 554 656 665—48
Duffy ..... 474 557 866—52
Duffy ..... 576 755 876—56
566 665 1075—56

In the afternoon McMullen defeated Harvey Schofield, 5 up, with scores of:
McMullen ..... 446 655 665—47
Schofield ..... 455 565 583—46
Schofield ..... 686 656 675—57
666 655 774—52

McMullen now meets Mark Smith in the semi-finals. In another Class C match Ernie Swan defeated Charles Cramer, 3 up. Their scores:
Cramer ..... 545 454 655—43
Swan ..... 555 655 464—45
Swan ..... 455 545 554—42

Ernie Swan now meets Russell Brown and Elmer Myers is slated to meet Bill Underwood.

Clarence Strub defeated Ed James, 6 up and Jim McAllister defeated Joe Fargo, 1 up on the 19th hole. Cards for these matches are reported lost.

Art Cronm played two matches yesterday and in the first he defeated L. H. McClendon, 4 up. Their scores:

Text of Radio Speech by Winston Churchill from London Yesterday

Warns Japan Britain Will Stand With United States

The text of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's address Sunday, which was broadcast to the British empire and the United States follows:

"I thought you would like me to tell you something about the voyage I made across the ocean to meet our great friend, the President of the United States, exactly where we met in secret, but I don't think I shall be indiscreet if I go so far as to say that it was somewhere in the Atlantic."

"In a spacious landlocked bay which reminded me of the west coast of Scotland, powerful American warships, protected by strong flotillas and far ranging aircraft, awaited our arrival and, as it were, stretched a hand out to help us in. Our party arrived in the newest, or almost the newest, British battleship, the Prince of Wales, with a modest escort of British and Canadian destroyers. And there for three days I spent my time in company and, I think I may say, in comradeship with Mr. Roosevelt, while the chiefs of staff and naval and military commanders, both of the British empire and of the United States, sat together in continual council."

"President Roosevelt is the thrice chosen head of the most powerful state and community in the world. I am a servant of kind and parliament at present charged with principal direction of our affairs in these fateful times, and it is my duty also to make sure, as I have made sure, that anything I say or do in the exercise of my office is approved and sustained by the whole British commonwealth of nations."

"Calls Parley Symbolic
Therefore, this meeting was bound to be important because of the enormous forces, at present only partially mobilized but steadily mobilizing, which are at the disposal of these two major groupings of the human family which happen to speak the same language and very largely think the same thoughts, or, anyhow, think a lot of the same thoughts. "The meeting was therefore symbolic. That is its prime importance. It symbolizes, in form and manner which every one can understand in every land and in every clime, deep underlying unities which stir, and at decisive moments rule, English speaking peoples throughout the world."

"Would it be presumptuous for me to say that it symbolized something even more majestic, namely the marshalling of the good forces of the world against the evil forces which are now so formidable and triumphant and have cast their cruel spell over the whole of Europe and a large part of Asia?"

"This was a meeting which marks forever in the pages of history the taking up by English speaking nations, amid all this peril, tumult, and confusion, of the guidance of fortunes of the broad toiling masses in all continents and our loyal effort, without any clog of selfish interest, to lead them forward out of the miseries into which they have been plunged, back to the broad high road of freedom and justice."

"A 'Glorious Opportunity'
This is the highest honor and the most glorious opportunity which could ever have come to any branch of the human race. When one beholds how many currents of extraordinary and terrible events have flowed together to make this harmony, even the most skeptical person must have the feeling that we all have a chance to play our part and do our duty in some great design, the end of which no mortal can foresee."

"Awful and horrible things are happening in these days. The whole of Europe has been wrecked and trampled down by the mechanical weapons and the barbaric fury of the Nazis. The most deadly instruments of war and science have been joined to extreme refinements of treach-ery and the most brutal exhibitions of ruthlessness, and thus have formed a combine of aggression the like of which has never been known before."

"The characteristics and structure of many ancient and honored states and peoples have been laid prostrate, and are now ground down under the heel and terror of the monster—Austrians, Czechs, Poles, Nodwegians, Danes, Belgians, Dutch, Greeks, Croats, and Serbs, above all the great French nation—have been stunned and plinoned. Italy, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, have bought shameful respite by becoming jackals of the tiger."

"Hitler Lashed as 'Devil'
But their true situation is very little different, and will presently be indistinguishable from that of his victims. Sweden, Spain and Turkey stand appalled, wondering which will be struck down next. Here, then, is a vast pit into which all of the most famous states and races of Europe have been flung and from which unaided they can never climb. "But all this did not satiate Adolf Hitler. He made a treaty of nonaggression with soviet Russia, just as he made one with Turkey, in order to keep them quiet till he was ready to attack them, and then nine weeks ago today, without a vestige of provocation, he hurled millions of soldiers with all their apparatus upon a neighbor he had called his friend with the avowed object of destroying Russia and tearing her to pieces."

"This frightful business is now unfolding day by day before our eyes. Here is a devil who in the mere spasms of his pride and lust for domination can condemn two or three millions—perhaps it may be many more—of human beings to speedy and violent death. Let Russia be blotted out; let Russia be destroyed; order the armies to advance—such were his decrees. Accordingly, from the Arctic ocean to the Black sea, six or seven millions of soldiers are locked in mortal struggle."

"Aggressor Finally 'Staggered'
"Ah, but this time it was not so easy. This time it was not all one way. The Russian armies and all the peoples of the Russian republic have rallied to the defense of their hearths and homes. For the first time, Nazi blood has flowed in fearful flood. Perhaps a million and a half, perhaps two millions, of Nazi cannon fodder have bit the dust of the endless plains of Russia."

"A tremendous battle rages along nearly 2,000 miles of front. The Russians fight with magnificent devotion. Not only that; our generals who have visited the Russian front line report with admiration the efficiency of their military organization and the excellence of their equipment. The aggressor is surprised, startled, staggered. For the first time in his experience, mass murder has become unprofitable. He retaliates by the most frightful cruelties."

"As his armies advance, whole districts are being exterminated. Scores of thousands—literally scores of thousands—of executions in cold blood are being perpetrated by German police troops upon Russian patriots who defend their native soil."

"Since the Mongol invasion of Europe in the 16th century there has never been a methodical, merciless butchery of such scale. And this is but the beginning."

"Japan 'Has Got to Stop'
"Famine and pestilence have yet to follow in the bloody ruts of Hitler's tanks. We are in the presence of crime without name. But Europe is not the only continent to be tormented and devastated by aggressions. For five long years Japanese military factions seeking to emulate the style of Hitler and Mussolini, taking all their posturing as if it were new European revelation, have been invading and harrying 500,000,000 inhabitants of China. Japanese armies have been wading about that vast land in futile excursions, carrying with them carnage, ruin, and corruption and calling it the 'Chinese incident.'"

"Now they stretch a grasping hand into the southern seas of China. They snatch Indo-China from the wretched Vichy French. They menace by their movements the Singapore British link with Australasia and menace the Philippine Islands, which are under the protection of the United States. It is certain that this has got to stop. Every effort will be made to secure a peaceful settlement."

"The United States is laboring with infinite patience to arrive at a fair and amicable settlement which will give Japan the utmost reassurance for her legitimate interests."

"We earnestly hope these negotiations will succeed. But this I must say, that if these hopes should fail we shall, of course, range ourselves unhesitatingly at the side of the United States."

"Peace Aim Exploined
"And thus we come back to a quiet bay somewhere in the Atlantic where misty sunshine plays on great ships which carry the white ensign or the stars and stripes."

"We had the idea when we met there—the President and I—that without attempting to draw final and formal peace aims, or war aims, it was necessary to give all peoples and especially the oppressed and conquered peoples a simple rough-and-ready wartime statement of the goal toward which the British commonwealth and the United States mean to make their way and thus make way for others to march with them upon the road which will certainly be painful and may be long."

"There are, however, two distinct and marked differences in this joint declaration from the attitude adopted by the allies during the latter part of the last war, and no one should overlook them. "The United States and Great Britain do not now assume that there will never be any more war again. On the contrary, we intend to take ample precautions to prevent its renewal in any period we can foresee by effectively disarming the guilty nations while remaining suitably protected ourselves."

"Chance for Trade Pledged to All
"The second difference is this: That instead of trying to ruin German trade by all kinds of additional trade barriers and hindrances, as was the mood of 1917, we have definitely adopted the view that it is not in the interests of the world and of our two countries that any large nation should be unprosperous or shut off from means of making a decent living for itself and its people by its industry and enterprise. These are far-reaching changes of principle upon which all countries should ponder."

"Above all, it is necessary to give hope and assurance of final victory to those many scores of millions of men and women who are battling for life and freedom or who are already bent down under the Nazi yoke."

"Hitler and his confederates have for some time been adjuring, bullying and beseeching populations whom they have wronged and injured to bow to their fate, to resign themselves to their servitude, and for sake of some mitigations and indulgences, to collaborate—that is the word—in what is called the new order in Europe."

"New Order' Analyzed
"What is this new order which they seek to fasten first upon Europe and if possible—for their ambitions are boundless—upon all the continents of the globe?"

"It is the rule of herrenfolk, the master race who are to put an end to democracy, to parliaments, to fundamental freedoms and deencies of ordinary men and women, to historic rights of nations, and give them in exchange the iron rule of Prussia, a universal goosetep and strict, efficient discipline enforced upon working classes by political police, with German concentration camps and firing parties, now so busy in a dozen lands, always handy in the background."

"Napoleon in his glory and genius spread his empire far and wide. There was a time when only the snows of Russia and the white cliffs of Dover, with their guardian fleets, stood between him and dominion of the world. Napoleon's armies had a theme; they carried with them surges of French revolution."

"Liberty, equality, and fraternity—that was the cry. There was a sweeping away of outworn, medieval systems and aristocratic privilege, land for people, a new code of laws. Nevertheless, Napoleon's empire vanished like a dream."

"But Hitler—Hitler has a theme, nought but mania, appetite, and exploitation. He has, however, weapons and machinery for grinding down and holding down conquered countries which are a product, a sadly perverted product, of modern science."

"The ordeals, therefore, of the conquered peoples will be hard. We must give them hope, we must give them conviction that their sufferings and their resistances will not be in vain. The tunnel may be dark and long but at its end there is light. That is symbolism, and that is the message of the Atlantic meeting."

"Free Europe Pledged
"Do not despair, brave Norwegians; your land shall be cleansed, not only from the invader, but from the filthy Quislings who are his tools. "Be sure of yourself, Czechs; your independence shall be restored. "Poles: The heroism of your people standing up to the cruel oppressors, the courage of your soldiers, sailors and airmen shall not be forgotten. Your country shall live again and resume its rightful part in the new organization of Europe."

"Lift up your heads gallant Frenchmen: Not all the infamies of Darlan (Jean Darlan, French vice premier) and of Laval (Pierre Laval, former vice premier) shall stand between you and the restoration of your birthright. "Tough, stout-hearted Dutch, Belgians, Luxemburgers; tormented, mishandled, shamefully cast away peoples of Jugo-Slavia; glorious Greece, now subjected to the crowning insults of rule by the Italian jackanapes; Yield not an inch. Keep your souls clean from all contact with the Nazi. Make them feel, even in their fleeting hour of brutish triumph, that they are moral outcasts of mankind. Help is coming. Mighty forces are arming in your behalf. Have faith. Have hope. Deliverance is sure."

They'll Do It Every Time

"There is the signal which we have flashed across waters. And if it reaches the hearts of those to whom it is sent, they will endure with fortitude and tenacity their present misfortunes in sure faith that they, too, are still serving the common cause and that their efforts will not be in vain."

"U. S. Joins 'Joint Pledge'
"You will perhaps have noticed that the President of the United States and the British representative, in what is aptly called the Atlantic charter, have jointly pledged their countries to the final destruction of nazi tyranny. That is a solemn and grave undertaking. It must make good. It will be made good, and of course many practical arrangements to fulfill that purpose have been and are being organized and set in motion."

"The question has been asked: How near is the United States to war? There is certainly one man who knows the answer to that question. "If Hitler has not yet declared war upon the United States it is surely not out of his love for American institutions. It is certainly not because he could not find pretext. He has murdered half a dozen countries for far less."

"The fear of immediate redoubling of the tremendous energies now being employed against him is no doubt a restraining influence. But the real reason is, I am sure, to be found in the method to which he has so faithfully adhered and by which he has gained so much. What is that method? It is a very simple method. 'One by one'—that is his plan; that is his guiding rule; that is the trick by which he has enslaved so large a portion of the world."

"Czechs' Fall Laid to France
"Three and a half years ago I appealed to my fellow countrymen to take the lead in weaving together a strong defensive union within the principles of the league of nations of all countries who felt themselves in ever growing danger but none would listen. All stood idle while Germany rearmied. Czechoslovakia was subjugated. The French faithful ally and broke their plighted word in that ally's hour of need."

"Russia was cajoled and deceived into a kind of neutrality or partnership while the French army was annihilated. The Low Countries and Scandinavian countries, acting with France and Great Britain in good time, even after the war had begun, might have altered its course and would have had, at any rate, a fighting chance. The Balkan states had only to stand together to save themselves from the ruin by which they are now engulfed."

"Mastered 'One by One'
"But one by one they are undetermined and overwhelmed. Never was a career of crime made more smooth. Now Hitler is striking at Russia with all his might, well knowing the difficulties of geography which stand between Russia and aid which western democracies are trying to bring. We shall strive our utmost to overcome all difficulties and bring this aid. We have arranged for a conference in Moscow between the United States, British and Russian authorities to settle the whole plan. No barrier must stand in the way."

"But why is Hitler striking at Russia and inflicting and suffering himself this frightful slaughter? It is with the declared object of turning his whole force upon the British island. And if he could succeed in beating the life and strength out of us—which is not so easy—then is the moment when he will settle his account—and it already is a long one—with the people of the United States and generally with the western hemisphere."

"'One by one'—there is the process, there is the simple, dismal plan which has served Hitler so well. It needs but one final successful application to make him master of the world. I am devoutly thankful that some eyes, at least, are fully opened to it while time remains."

"Extreme Danger' Seen by F.D.R.
"I rejoiced to find that President Roosevelt saw in their true light and proportion the extreme dangers by which the American people as well as the British people are now beset. It was indeed by the mercy of God that he began eight years ago that revival of strength of the American navy without which the new world today would have to take its orders from European dictators, but with which the United States still retains the power to marshal her gigantic strength and in saving herself, render incomparable service to mankind."

"We had a service on Sunday in our Atlantic bay. The president came on the quarter deck of the Prince of Wales where there were mingled together many hundreds of American and British sailors and marines. The sun shone bright and warm while we all sang old hymns which are our common inheritance and which we learned as children in our homes. We sang a hymn founded on a Psalm which John Hampden's soldiers sang when they bore his body to the grave and in which the brief, precarious span of human life is contrasted with one to whom a thousand ages are but as yesterday when it is past and as a watch in the night."

"Sure Hope of Saving World"
"We sang the sailors' hymn 'For Those' and there are very many. 'In Peril on the Sea' we sang 'Onward Christian Soldiers,' and, indeed, I felt this was no vain presumption but that we had a right to feel we were serving a cause for sake of which the trumpet has sounded from on high. "When I looked upon that densely packed congregation of fighting men of the same language, of the same faith, of the same fundamental laws, of the same ideals, and now, to large extent, of the same interests, and certainly in different degrees facing the same dangers, it swept across me that here was the only hope but also the sure hope of saving the world from measureless degradation."

"And so we came back across the ocean waves uplifted in spirit. "Some American destroyers who were carrying mails to United States marines in Iceland happened to be going the same way, too, so we made a goodly company at sea together and when we were right out in mid-passage one afternoon a noble sight broke on view. We overtook one of the convoys which carry munitions and supplies of the new world to sustain the champions of freedom in the old. "The whole horizon seemed filled with ships. Seventy or eighty ships of all kinds and sizes arrayed in fourteen lines, each of which could have been drawn with a ruler; hardly a wisp of smoke, not a straggler, but all bristling with cannon and other precautions on which I will not dwell, surrounded by their British escorting vessels while overhead far-ranging Catalina aircraft soared in vigilant protection as eagles in the sky. "And then I felt that hard and terrible and long-drawn out as this struggle may be, we shall not be denied the strength to do our duty to the end."

If you even suspect your child has them, get Jayne's Vermifuge right away! Jayne's is America's best known proprietary worm medicine. Scientifically tested and used by millions for over a century.
